How to Achteve a "Brilliant Victory" in an Election.

phia Age was in Kent county, Maryland, a few days preceding the recent election in that State. He states that on the Menday before the elee tion, two steamers filled with soldiers, cavalry and infantry, arrived at the wharf in Chester town, and soon quartered themselves on the private premises of a gentleman in defiance of h's known wishes. The Provost Marshal of the district, himself a candidate for an important office, at once promulgated Gen. Schrick's "Order No. 53," the first provision of which made the military authorities excinsive judges of the loyalty of citizens, and ordered them to arrest such suspected persons as might be seen "approaching or hanging about the polls." It presented also an oath which the soldiers were to assist the judges of election in administering to all who might be challenged at the polls as disloyal, and it made the judges liable to be reported at headquarters, should they refuse to execute the "order."

The Provost Marshal, the more certainly to secure his own election, issued, in cocjune tion with Col. CARROLL Tayes, the officer in command, orders for the arrest of many of the prominent Conservative Union men, among whom was the Hon. James B. Ricaud, a candidate on their ticket, and maintained at every hazard. a gentleman of well known unimpeachable loy alty. They were selzed at their homes and sent to Baltimore the following morning. Another order was then issued by Col. Tavis, declaring "the League ticket" as the only one "recognized by the authorities as loyal," and saying that it became every one to give his support to it, and put himself "honorably on the poll-book of the county."

In the meantime the public jail had been broken open, and three negro men, prisoners charged with a penitentiary offense, and indicted by the Grand Jury, were turned loose, and the jailor was selzed and imprisoned, with other State prisoners, among whom were two judges of election. Shot-guns and platels were seized by squade of soldiers, and the citizens were left at the mercy of armed strangers without a weapon to defend their persons or their propcrty. Receipts were given when required, stating that the guns would be retured "immedistely after the election." Many minor indignittes were inflicted upon individuals.

Such were the preparations made for the day of "election." When it came, the polls in every district were occupied by organized bodies were not taken from the wheel. In one other of troops, and cavalry and infantry were marshaled in pomp and parade in every section of the country. No word of comment is necessary. It is as easy for the "Government" party by such appliances to carry an election in the such appliances to carry an election in the United States as in France.

"Pill Up the Ranks."

Under this rallying cry, the New York Times, and Administration organ, calls earneathy upon those who, by their votes at the recent elections, sustained the war policy of the Administration, to fill up the ranks by velunteering, so as to preclude the necessity of resorting to a draft under the President's last call. It insists that the same ardor which the partisans of the Abolition party exhibited during the late canvaes, in obtaining votes, Under this rallying cry, the New York sixty years of age, was drawn, during the late canvaes, in obtaining votes, they should now apply to the raising of voluntoers. If this be done, the supply of the three handred thousand men called for by the President, will be realized long before the 5th of January-the day fixed for drafting to com-

of January—the day fixed for drafting to commence.

The Times argues that "the whole moral force," as it calls it, "of the elections will be lost and in fact converted into a flagrant shame, if they are to be followed by a compoliing of mes to go forth to carry out with bullets what they had declared for with ballots." It is impossible for the dullest not to feel the keen edge of such an incicive argument as this. But we shall see in due time how many will volunter to austain with bullets the Abolition policy that clause of able-hodied men will back out by taking advantage of the exemption and substitute clauses in the Convention of the Fenian Brotherhood.

The Convention of the Fenian Betherhood, or "Irish Congress," as it is sometimes called, which met in Chi cago on the 3d inst, was the most important meeting which that organization has yet held. Three hundred and twesty five delegates from all parts of the United States, from Canada and Ireland, were present. ppels of a recent speech by Col. Warrs, Governor elect of Alabama, from which we make the following extracts :

ALABAMA'S VALOR.

In Richmond his bosom has been often thrill-ed with the tales of Alabama's valor, and sometimes he thought she had lost more of her brave and noble some than any other State.—
He might particularize, but would only say that, whether willing to accede or not, she had poured out her richest blood for the cause, and had still other libations with which to water the tree of liberty. He would scarcely admit himself to be an Alabamian if he thought the people of his State would accept from the Liucoln dynasty any other terms than the unqualified recognition of their sovereign independence. [Great applause, and a voice from a red-haired clergyman, "He's sound as a dollar."]

THE PROGRESS OF THE WAR Was next adverted to, and a southing review had of the protesn shapes and objects which had been announced by Lincoln; how the first year was dedicated to the work of restoring the 'blessed Union;" in what manner the afternatives were next offered us of submission or the freedom of our negroes and confiscation of our property, and their present terms—adopt-ed since the fall of Vicksburg—allowing us only to come back as the conquered provinces of a great central and military despotism— shorn of our rights to the trial by jury, to the writ of habeas corpus, and in every respect their abject tools and slaves.

The Draft in Wisconsin.

The Milwankee correspondent of the Chicago Times writes as follows, under date of No

The draft has proceeded very quietly to-day. Heaven, earth, and another world have heen called upon to furnish conscripts to swell the ranks of the Federal army. The Provest has usurped the place of Gabriel, and has blown his horn to summons the dead of the Lady Elgin. The waters of murmuring Lake Michigan will hereafter be condemned as dis-Michigan will hereafter be condemned as dis-loyal if they refuse to yield up ekeletons that have rested in peace beceath her placid bosom for years. The Provost has summoned Peter J. Bellinger, who was murdered at New Lis-bon, to fall into his ranks "as they go marching on." Somebody ought to go after him.— Men sixty years of age are declared to belong to the first class and liable to serve in an Abolition crasade. In three instances the same men have been three times drafted. One man, who is blind in one eye, and nearly so in th other, was drafted in different words. The half the lame, and the blind are declared to be sound, and notified to call at the Provost's office and settle. Your regular correspondent here was drafted twice in this ward, and it is supposed that some dozen ballots bearing his name instance, his name, with a slight alteration in the 5th ward, two of whom have been in th army and were discharged, some of a widowed mother, were all drawn. They have two brothers now in the service. The whole five, of course, are Democrats. Ex. Sheriff Larkin,

The approaching winter will be the gagest mason Washington over saw. The preparations that are being made for every description of dissipation are on the most stopedous scale. The population of the capital will be far greater than during any preceding winter. The capacity of she hotels and boarding houses for so-commodation the people who will be here, was exhausted long ago. There is not a vacant house in the city, or in Georgetown. Hundreds of people have engaged houses in Baltimore, and will ride to this city from that one every morning. The hotels and boarding houses here will charge the most fabulous prices. Balls, routs and parties will be the order of the day. Money will flow like water. Extravagance in dress, in equipage, and in sumptuous living, will mark the daily life of the degenerate successors of Washington, of Jackson, of Harrison, of Polk. In all these fashionable follies the President's household, we are gravely informed, will take the lead.
